The set design:

- The set design was supposed to feel inviting and look similar to a podcast studio. We wanted to use certain design elements as symbolism for our topic. Because the two characters would be discussing socialized medicine Brook and I cut out health related magazine images (nurses, doctors, patients, etc) to
- The chairs we chose were also meant to match each character's perspective or character. For example we wanted to mix the furniture to add more visual interest but we chose a leaf chair for Alexandria because she cares for the environment, the charm matches Alexandria's calmness and simplicity. While the other chair is meant to feel lavish or expensive. This chair was the best chair to represent our character because our character is supposed to only accept lavish or expensive goods.
- 2 of the pictures cut out and glued in the picture frames are decorative while the rest are healthcare related. We have 2 healthcare workers (nurses/doctors) and a penny to represent our topic of the economic systems. We also decided that Trump's face and a article about healthcare under the Trump administration were relevant to the episode.
